

POWER CRISIS – RISING PRICES DIAL A DUMP DELIVERING SOLUTIONS

From left: Christopher Biggs, Ian Malouf and Darin Marks

The community wants the Australian energy market to transition to power generation with a lower carbon footprint.

There is no fresh investment in new coal power stations, while solar and wind cannot yet deliver sufficient electricity for our homes and businesses.

Electricity prices are rising and they are exerting pressures on family and business budgets.

WE ARE THE MARKET LEADER AND DELIVER SOLUTIONS.

Dial A Dump's The Next Generation (TNG) Energy from Waste proposal is a great solution to Sydney's growing problem of waste disposal and diminishing landfill, due to run out in 20 years.

Using residual waste after re-cycling to generate electricity makes absolute sense.

Equipped with the latest technology we can safely deliver:

- Cheaper electricity
- Additional baseload power generation from a 60% renewable source
- A safe alternative to landfilling
- Reduction in greenhouse emissions
- A cleaner, cheaper alternative to coal burning for electricity generation
- More jobs.

Over 2,200 Energy from Waste facilities in 35 countries are currently operating successfully and safely, while a recent independent poll shows that 69% of the Sydney community are already in favour of Energy from Waste.

DADI Group calls for the NSW Government to set a target to prohibit landfilling of combustible waste by 2027. It is achievable.

We ask the people of NSW to please get on board with this great plan.

Dial A Dump is a principal provider of waste collections and waste management services in New South Wales.

Dial A Product is the producer and supplier of a vast range of quality recycled products at our Genesis re-cycling facility in Eastern Creek, including wood chips and road base.

Genesis Xero Waste is the market leading provider of waste transfer, landfill and recycling services for industry.

The Next Generation is leading the way for Energy from Waste technology in Australia.
